

Gordon Food Service Market Updates

Grocery & Bakery section for Market Update: June 28, 2019

Grocery & Bakery | Wheat

An extended period of hot/dry weather in Europe and the former Soviet Union have likely shrunk their wheat crop and is pushing prices higher. Prices for most classes of wheat are nearing 2019 highs. Early harvest reports in the southern Great Plains suggest good quality but lower average proteins. Flour prices which have generally been below last year's levels may start to work higher if the wheat price rally is sustained.

Grocery & Bakery | Soybean Oil

Soybean oil prices have dropped back a little as warmer, drier weather gives the newly-seeded soybean crop just what it needs.

Grocery & Bakery | Sugar

Most of the sugar beet crop is planted and prices have leveled off. Processors still have a big part of next year output available for booking.
